DAILY GAZETTE.

THE PRICE OF PEACE.—The New York Herald, arguing against such in the com-munity as stile talk of peace, even on condi-tion of recognizing the Montgomery faction, thus shows the futility of their calcula-tions, and the unavoidable necessity of war: But the case does not stop here. Yield to the imperious demands of these rebelsacknowledge their independence and perfect equality—and yet, you have not paid the price that will secure peace. The very day to be treated with, an opening is made for demands without number. An equal divis-ion of the public lands would be insisted upon; an equal division of the navy and of all military property. In case of the attach-ment of the border states to the confederathe confederation would be required.

The confederation would be required.

The confederation would impose its own terms upon the navigation of the Mississippi. But, saying authing of such matters affecting merely material interests, claims would be made in federated to be made in the confederation. would be made in reference to the surrender of fugitive slaves, the unchecked expansion of the area of slavery, and the impunity of the slave trade, which would involve a com-IMPORTERS & MANUFACTURERS. plete abnegation of every cherished senticould be no escape if our policy is to be regulated by the maxim—peace at any price. Those states have proclaimed to the world that their supreme interest and concern is slavery—that it is for that, and that alone, that they have sacrificed their place n the old Union, and are ready to either peace or war. If we take this as they themselves state it, why should not the supreme necessity of fostering and fortifying their institution control their future as well as their present? And if we are to acknowledge it and yield to it now, under the penalty of war, why may not the same thing be required for all time to come? Are the interests of slavery to become less urgent? Is the imperious, exacting spirit of the south to change? When was it ever known that such a spirit was propilizted by concession so long as anything was left which was valued? There must be a stand somewhere, or else complete sacrifice. The only true policy is, to meet the issue now and settle it definitely, even though it cost bloodshed. If blows are to be struck, it is infinitely better that it should be done in the vindication of right and authority in the outset, than for ulterior cause—infinitey better that it should be in the name and for the sake of the Union, than for the refusal of some new demands after the Union has been ignominiously surrendered. If a lirm attitude can ever secure peace, it must be now, before compliance becomes a precedent. And if we must have war, it must be shorter and easier when the contest is with a mere isolated rebellious fragment than when it is with an independent nationality invested with all national attributes and privileges. The mere single power of grantng letters of marque, which the smalles independent state may do, would in itself render the confederacy ten times more formidable as a recognized nationality, than it ever can be so long as it occupies simply the position of a revolted section. In a contest now, they can sanction no privateers which the nations will recognize or treat otherwise than as pirates. In a contest after their independence is acquired, our com-merce would be preyed upon with impunity. And a contest, we have said, must come, sooner or later, either in the Union or out of it, unless this imperious spirit, that abuses our love of peace by making unlimited de-mands and imposing unconditional terms— the spirit which displayed itself so conspicuously at Fort Sumter, is now checked and curbed once for all. Generous forbearance, up to the point when forbearance sinks into weakness and ignominy, is what all should approve. Nothing should be denied that can consistently be allowed, if peace shall be the fruit of it. But to yield blindly and implicitly, simply because the thing is manded, and blood will be shed if the demend is refused, is the most miserable stupidity, as well as the most contemptible abectness. Peace can be secured in no such mode; and the war that would finally break it would be all the more terrible for having been preceded by such unavailing humilin-

PATRIOTISM OF ADOPTED CITIZENS. -The dacrity and zeal with which our adopted citizens have rallied to the defense of the American Watch Company, government is most honorable to them and nost auspicious of success to the national cause. The Albany Evening Journal has the following pleasant paragraph on the subject:-"In visiting the seat of war, we are pleasantly impressed by the numerous. disciplined, soldierly legions of adopted cit izens. We say pleasantly impressed, be-cause we have ever insisted that in the hour of real peril, this class of citizens would be true to their allegiance. The New York sixty-ninth, an Irish regiment, has, from the Ladies' Silk & Woolen Dresses & Shawls day it landed at Anuapolis, besides doing its regular camp duty, labored as hard as its men ever labored at home. And all is done cheerfully. There are three splendid German regiments, from the cities of New York and Brooklyn; and there is a very large infusion of the German and Irish element in the Twenty-fifth (Albany) and oth er regiments. There are, also, Poles and Italians in the service. And last, though by no means least, comes the Seventy-nintl (Scotch) regiment, than which it is difficult to find truer men or better soldiers. The sons of Britain, too, equally devoted and patriotic, are organizing their legion for service. So that of the troops at Washington and Fortress Monroe, there cannot be less than ten or twelve thousand adopted.

The Victory in Missouri.

The victory of the federal troops at Boonville is confirmed. The loss of the enemy is estimated at from 70 to 200. Gen. Lyon issued a proclamation at Boonville, dated on Thursday, setting forth the circumstances leading to the vecent engagement at that place, and inviting those who have taken up arms against the federal government under misapprehension to return to their homes, promising them security from molestation.
From Europe.

By the steamship Africa intelligence is received that the government of England has prohibited both parties, the United States privateers as well as the southern rebels, from bringing privateers into their ports. This exclusion of our privateers is of no practical importance as we shall have none, but it is the same policy of ignoring any difference between the two contending parties in this country.

Garibaldi is reported seriously ill; and the Pope indisposed.

John Bull in Trouble.

A London correspondent of the N. Y. Post thus deguerreotypes the distraction of John Bull between cotton and principle.-The extent of area of the rebel states also poses him. The least obtuse can appreciate his distraction: train, without proper orders from his supe-

John Bull always will be a little obtuse and slow in his estimate of his gigantic son's genius, capacity and resources Good John Bull apreads out his little map of the United States, and sees that the area of the seceding states far exceeds that of the free He is dumbfounded at the thought that Virginia alone (from his own confession) is bigger than all England. "God bless my soul!" says John Bull, "just look here—what a tract of country has separated itself? Call you this seceding? God bless my soul! The south is the bigger of the two sections." "One half of the American people," says the accurate London Times, "arrayed against the other half (?) and the two factions fighting for a mere shadow, or at least for a mere extension of territory."(!)

Then plausible too plausible Jeff Davis and his piratical crew, who, having first robbed the ship of state, who would have run her on to the breakers, has perhaps thrown a little dust, (wheter gold dust or not) into J. B.'s eyes, and deceived him with these pseudo constitutional and legal formulas, and the like orderly and conventional movements, (as if traitors and robbers may not pass laws and constitutions as well as honest men.)

The cotton, what about our cotton? says J. B. We must have cotton and cotton implies niggers, and niggers imply slavery, and slavery equality at least of south to north: and, bless my soull says J. B. "what am I to do in such a case?" So be acratches his honest Taurian pate, and waits for something to turn up. He is taken somewhat aback by the sublime uprising of the free men of the north. John Bull may be a little startled at the energy of the north in carrying on the war, but he relapses immediately into concern about cotton. He has been a raving abolitionist for many years, but he forgets that now; his eyes are full of cotton. Cotton suggests negroes, and negroes slavery and the slave trade, but John don't care so much about slavery as he did-on the whole it is a good thing for him, if it will give him cetton to supply his 2,000,000 operatives who are kept from rebellion by having a plenty of it to manufacture. His cabinet are therefore for the southern confederacy, and it will be so to the end. "British interests" are in that direction, and not in the northern states, where they compete with him in manufacturing every thing, and beat him out of sight in many things. John Ball don't like the north, where commerce flourishes, and which owns a larger tonnage of trading ships than he does. He absolutely hates the Yankees for interfering with his monopoly of the ocean, but loves the south which has neither sailors nor manufactories to trouble him with compe-dependence, and threaten to "pitch into him" for his treachery. Though John Bull is thus distracted by the rebellion, and hardly knows which side to favor, he will be all right when he knows which whips in the fight. We may be certain that he will be full of his congratulations to the winning side-whichever it may be. To us of the north he will pretend to be a cordial friend if we win-to the south he will never be hostile, though if they lose in this rebellion, he must put on a mask of tition. But John has discretion, and he strives to help the southern pirates while he

A New Movement.

There has been a new movement upon the chess board of war of some importance. The government is now engaged in transporting a large number of troops up the Kanawha, a --- which empties into the Ohio in son ... a stern Virginia. Twelve steamboats with regiments from Ohio and Indiana have already departed for this new scene of operations, and others are to follow. The Chicago Tribune says that the Sturge's Rifles of that city have gone there. A look upon the map will show that this is a movement of great stratagetic importance. The Kanawha is mavigable for a hundred miles into the interior to Charleston-from thence it is a hundred miles to Waite Sulphur Springs over a good turnpike road. From this point it is about fifty miles to the railroad which leads in one direction to Lynchburg in Virginia, and to Knoxville in Tennessee in another. This s a maintain region, the people of which are favorable to the Union and need protection. If occupied it will cut off supplies and troops for the Virginia rebel army from the south west, and may be available to threaten Richmond down the valley of and 4,000 to Gov. Sherwood. of the James river, from Lynchburg. With an enterprising commander and 20,000 troops, well supplied, it would be a splendid field of operations.

TO Whom it May Concern:

I All now over 60 years of age. Three years since I became blind from Catract to both eyes. Scon after I became blind an attempt to restore my sight by an operation was made in this city, which was unsuccessful. Mearing of the reputation of Dr. Folsom, as a skillful occuliat, I was induced to cone it. him, though with very little hopes of relief. The doctor propered an operation, to which I consented, which resulted in almost Perfect Restoration of Sight to one eye. He afterwards performed an operation on the other eye with success. I sum now anjoying the inestimable bles, lag of good vision, and a much better general etate of health than before.

The Democrat will continue to be a faithful advocate and supporter of the principles of the republican party. Its spergies will be especially devoted to the west—to the advocacy of western interests and the affection of western rights. The administration of Abraham Lincoln shalt receive its cordial and unfaitering support. The great measures of a Facific railroad on the central route; free lands for the laundless; the improvement of river navigation; restrenchment and reform in all the departments of the federal government, will be arged with that zeal and devotion which have won for the Democrat its present position. On all questions it will boldly espouse the right, and only seek its advancement through the public good.

A PLEASANT INCIDENT .- This forenoon a very pleasant incident occurred in Lanmin's Hall. The Light Guard visited the hall in compliance with an invitation from the managers of the ladies' festival of last evening, and partook of a liberal refreshment. Before leaving the hall, they were briefly addressed by the Rev. Mr. Kinney, who bore the testimony of the community to the general excellent conduct and character of the Guards. Mr. K. was followed by Mr. Joseph Baker, and by Mr. H. A. Patterson, the late "talking" captain of the company. Capt. Wheeler as the fighting commander, detailed Mr. H. W. Masterton, a private, to reply to the welcome extended to the company, and to return acknowledgements to the ladies who prepared the entertainment. This duty was well performed. Mr. Masterton is yet a mere boy in age and appearance, but he exhibits an aptitude for public speaking which promises him toture success if he lives to cultivate that gift. Peter Schmidt, of Harmony, responded

Three rousing cheers were given by the Guard to the ladies who had invited them to the hall, and the company left in martial order, convincing the most skeptical that they are gentlemen as well as soldiers.

The Second Regiment at Chicago.

From the Chicago papers we learn that Moses M. Ctring once opened a speech the second regiment of Wisconsin volunteers arrived at that city at 6 o'clock P. M. They were met at the railroad depot by five companies of the Chicago military, and a very large concourse of people on foot and in carriages, who accompanied them thro the city to the Michigan Southern railroad lepot.

The Times says :- "The sidewalks along the entire line of march were crowded with ladies and gentlemen, who cheered the soldiers as they passed. The cross streets seems to be standing tremulously, with its were all blocked up with carriages, filled with both sexes of all ages, from the infant to the gray-haired grandfathers and grandmothers. This regiment is composed of the most soldierly looking fighting material of any we have ever seen." The most of the men look like sturdy farmers and frontiersmen. They are deserving of the highest honor, and our citizens did their best to TEAS. render them their due in this respect."

The Tribune says "the regiment took the cars for the east, leaving at half past nine o'clock last evening. All along their route through the city, thousands of spectators lined both sides of the streets. The enthusiasm was great. Much praise was elicited by the appearance of these troops, to whom our whole community wish a safe journey. SALT FISH, Wisconsin has need to be proud of her regments. They will do honor to the northwest."

Serious Railrond Accident.

As the eleven o'clock train on the Milvaukee and Prairie du Chien railway, going west from this place, reached the Y at Milon, an axle of one of the cars broke, which threw three of the freight cars from the track, smashing them up, and seriously and probably fatally injuring Daniel Foote, a brakeman, whose residence is in this city. At the time the cars were thrown of Mr. Foote was on the top of the train, and the concussion threw him between two cars upon the track, three running over him, crushing both legs as far up as the knees, breaking his left arm, and bruising his head.

Immediately after the accident occurred locomotive was dispatched to this city and carried Drs. Treat and Palmer to the assistance of the wounded man. He was found in a very critical condition, and was removed to his residence in this city, where he ies with little hope of recovery.

Mr. Foote is a very worthy man, and has been employed at different times for several years, on the railroad. He is generally known and respected in this community and the terrible accident which has befallen him, is universally regretted.

"Remember the Applicated."-This livine injunction was liberally obeyed yes- $[\mathbf{Broche}\ \mathbf{Shawls}]$ terday by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Miltimore in a bountiful supply of strawberries and other choice accompaniaments to the pupils of the blind institute. A company of the friends of the generous donors were present at the entertainment, which was given on the premises of Mr. M., and contributed to the enjoyment of the repast.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL -- As was expected, the festival last evening was a pleasant assemblage of friends and acquaintances. The refreshments were abundant and excellent, and the attendance large. The hall was decorated with several Union flags, and the stars and stripes were displayed upon the dresses of some of the visitors.

SECOND MINNESOTA REGIMENT .-- We learn that 500 men belonging to this regiment will probably leave Prairie du Chien for Chicago via. Janesville, next Sunday morning.

The City Zouaves will meet for drill to night. The company will appear in uniform can and pants.

11HR above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt 1 paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superfort. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the finctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-ridge statements of their condition, and without a cach surplus on hand sufficient to refinate their cutstanding risks, the above named companies always hat and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and inrost instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal putronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutnat Companies, and a certaring given instead of an succriainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Pumps, Without Engine. In a half hour at ordinary pumping speed, I supply my stock of from forty to fifty head of cattle and horses, with one of May's Patent Pumps. Well 70 feet deep, and use it in place of another kind that was very offen out of repair. Being composed of few and strong pieces, and built on scientific principles, I think they must be R. W. SCHENCK. Bradford, Rock county, Wis., January 29th, 1861.

I supply with water 690 sheep, some 60 head of cattle and 10 head of horses, with May's Patent Pump. Its great strength, apparent durability and above all the great amount of water it raises in a short time, and its HENEY C. SPALDING,

C. M. CLARK. Whitewater, Walwerth Co., Wis., Jan. 31st, 1861. Since the 1st of October last we have been using one of May's Patent Pumps, and it gives us entire satisfac-tion. Our well is 126 feet deep and the pump is worked by horse power or by hand. In addition to pumping water for stock and farm purposes, we use large quantitles for our Brewery. REEVES & WADDLE. Middleton, Dane county, Wis., Jan. 22d, 1861.

I am using one of May's Patent Pumps in place of a deep well pump of another kind, that was often out of order and worked hard. Well 122 feet deep, 72 feet drilled in solid rock, and pump placed 101 feet from surface. Its great strongth and simplicity pleases me, and am surprised and gratified with the large amount of water raised with little labor, 6 to 8 full strokes of the lever filling a bucket. I deem it one of the most valuable improvements of the age for raising water. They have been tested in more than a thousand cases. with entire success.

Pumps, With Engines.

I am using one of May's Patent Pumps and Self-Regulating Wind Engine (or Mill) on one of my farms near Janesville. Well 83 feet deep. Pump and mill used together, or may be separated in a moment. One to we hours daily is sufficient to pump water for my stock. Also, the pump works very easy by hand and is the first one, after trying different kinds, that gives me entire satisfaction. Having no bolts, packing, suction pipe, or pumping rods, and being made heavy and strong, think they must be very durable.

Janesville, Jan. 11th, 1861. A HOSKINS.

I am using a wind engine, and pump of May's paient in a well 65 feat deep. I deem them very valuable improvements, and agree with Mr. Hoskins in the above expressed opinion. I had been using a Soneca Falls Engines.

Rock Terrace, Wis., Feb. 6th, 1861. Since November 1858, I have been using one of May's Patent Wind Engines, pumping water from a well 186 feet deep. The Engine is a powerful one, often pump ing fifty barrels of water per day. It stands 110 feet om the well and the power is communicated from the Engine to the well, underground.

I deem these Engines of great value, saving a vast amount of hard manual labor, and as their merits are understood, think they must come into general use. J. V. ROBBINS. These pumps and engines have taken first premiums when exhibited in competition at state and county fairs
